2018 ASOR Annual Meeting Denver, Colorado

The American Schools of Oriental Research (ASOR)

ASOR is a non-profit organization that supports and encourages the study of the history and cultures of the Near East from the earliest times.

The organization was founded in 1900 by twenty-one institutions including Harvard, Princeton, Yale, and Columbia, and currently has more than 1,650 members in the United States, Canada, and abroad. ASOR has more than 85 consortium institutions, including universities, seminaries, museums, foundations, and libraries, and our affiliated overseas research centers host scholars working in the Middle East.

ASOR communicates news of the latest research findings in our publications, newsletters, and through lectures at our Annual Meeting. ASOR's book series and journals, such as Near Eastern Archaeology and the Journal of Cuneiform Studies, are intended for a lay audience as well as specialist archaeologists, historians, and biblical scholars. Founded in 1919 the Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research (BASOR) is ASOR's flagship scholarly journal and includes articles covering the entire eastern Mediterranean from the Paleolithic period through Islamic times.

2018 ASOR Annual Meeting

The 2018 ASOR Annual Meeting will be held from November 14-17 at the Denver Marriott Tech Center located at 4900 South Syracuse Street, Denver, Colorado. The Annual Meeting brings together ASOR's vibrant academic community from around the world to present their current findings and discuss their research. The conference attracts approximately 950 scholars and enthusiasts of archaeology and anthropology, linguistics, biblical studies, art history, cultural heritage, and other fields related to the study of the ancient Near East.

Make a plan to introduce your organization's publications, products, or services to the diverse communities that attend ASOR's Annual Meeting. ASOR offers numerous ways for exhibitors and sponsors connect with attendees during the meeting. Attendees represent colleges and universities, government agencies, non-profit institutes, international organizations, museums, and research institutes. The attendees in Denver will be authors, potential authors, and decision-makers in the purchasing of textbooks, products, and other items.

The Exhibitor Hall will be centrally located near the registration tables and meeting space. ASOR ensures steady traffic by strategically placing signage, coffee breaks, and poster displays, and by using mobile app notifications and games to encourage attendees to visit the Exhibit Hall frequently. We support our exhibitors with profiles in our Program and Abstract Book, on our website, and in the meeting's mobile app, as well as by offering opportunities for advertising and sponsorship. Sponsors receive priority table placement. Take advantage of the many marketing options ASOR has to offer in order to increase your organization's visibility.

We enthusiastically invite you to participate in the ASOR 2018 Annual Meeting in Denver!
