UNEARTHING THE PAST SINCE 1900

JOIN ASOR IN ITS SECOND CENTURY OF DISCOVERY!

FOUNDED IN 1900

Since its inception, ASOR has encouraged research, especially archaeological, about the history, geography, languages, literatures, and religions of the societies of the ancient Near East, the birthplace of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, and the tap roots of Western civilization.

Today numerous ASOR-affiliated projects with multi-disciplinary research interests continue to explore the civilizations and cultures of the eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East. The interests of project researchers span the more than ten-thousand-year history of cultural development in the Near East, from prehistoric times to the present.
